

Final Bot / Real Report — Every Account Scanned

Real followers, following and post counts pulled from each profile

Verdict	Accounts	Share	What it means
BOT	1032	91.0%	Remove - mass-follow / empty account
SUSPICIOUS	35	3.1%	Borderline - eyeball before removing
REAL	65	5.7%	Genuine - keep and engage
UNAVAILABLE	2	0.2%	Deleted / private / banned
TOTAL	1134	100%

THE SCORING MODEL

Every one of the 1134 accounts was opened and its real follower count, following count and post count read directly off the profile. Nothing here is estimated and nothing is based on how the username looks. A handful of behaviours are decisive on their own; everything else is scored, where 5+ = BOT, 3-4 = SUSPICIOUS, 2 or less = REAL.

Decisive rule (overrides everything)	Verdict
Follows 50x more people than follow it back	BOT
Follows 15x+ more, under 5,000 followers, fewer than 20 posts	BOT
Follows 15x+ more but does post regularly (20+ posts)	SUSPICIOUS
Zero posts, follows 1,000+, ratio 3x or worse	BOT
Zero posts (any other case)	never REAL

Everything that survives those rules is then scored:

Signal	Condition	Points
No content	0 posts	+3
Almost no content	1-2 posts	+2
High follow ratio	following/followers >= 10x	+3
Elevated follow ratio	>= 5x	+1
Follow-farm volume	following >= 5,000	+2
High follow volume	following >= 2,000	+1
Nobody follows back	under 30 followers	+2
Few followers	under 100 followers	+1
Actively posts	10+ posts (only if ratio under 5x)	-2
Healthy ratio	follows <= its own followers	-2
Real audience	500+ followers (only if ratio under 5x)	-1

Activity credit is withheld when an account's own follow behaviour is suspect — otherwise a follow-farm could buy itself a clean bill of health just by posting a few times.

Why this beats the earlier username-pattern method: a name like john2000 was wrongly flagged before simply for containing digits. This model ignores the name entirely and judges behaviour — an account that posts nothing and follows thousands is a bot regardless of what it is called, and an account with real posts and a balanced ratio is real even if its name looks odd.

EVERY ACCOUNT — LIVE DATA + VERDICT

Ratio = following divided by followers. Higher means it chases follows it never gets back.

WHAT TO DO NOW

- 1. Remove the 1032 BOT accounts. Every one of them either posts nothing, follows thousands of people who don't follow back, or both. They contribute zero engagement and drag your reach down.
- 2. Skim the 35 SUSPICIOUS accounts. These sit on the fence. Open a few, look at whether the posts are real and whether anyone comments. Remove the empty ones.
- 3. Keep the 65 REAL accounts. This is your actual audience. Every piece of content should be aimed at them.
- 4. The 2 unavailable accounts are already gone (deleted, banned or private) — Instagram will drop most of them from your count on its own.
